La Jolla Canyon

August 14, 2013

Leader: Roland Bassett

Location: Approx. 22 miles west of Malibu on PCH, Just past the large sand dune and just past Sycamore Canyon

There are several hike alternatives:

1) Point Magu Proceed up the main trail past the water fall (it may be dry) to the first fork to the left. Proceed to the next fork to the left and follow to the peak. There are great ocean views from the peak. Elevation gain approx 1200 Ft. RT approx 6 miles.

2) Picnic area and camp grounds. Proceed past the Magu fork to the fire road. There are signs designating the camp sites and picnic tables. "Andy Gumps" are available at the camp sites. RT approx 4 miles

3) Loop trail: Continue on the fire road east to the main fire road which bisects La Jolla and Sycamore Canyons. Bear right (towards the ocean) on the fire road until you meet the Ray Miller trail which affords views of the ocean and a return to the parking area. RT approx 6 Miles

There are restrooms at the trail head. A parking fee is required. Refreshments will be served as usual after the hike.
